People in front of Luna building during Milan Design Week. Located between Via Ventura and Via Massimiano, Luna (ex-Hyundai) building was built in 2011 and designed by Ruatti Studio Architects. Its red sign "Luna" comes from the former Fun Fair "Le Varesine" in Porta Nuova. The building has shops and art galleries on the first floor, a bar-restaurant on the second floor and ateliers on the third floor. Its shape represents a sort of joint between former industrial and current residential areas.
